

AN ACTIVIST NOT A TERRORIST

WALEED ABU AL-KHAIR SAUDI ARABIA

Human rights lawyer Waleed Abu al-Khair was jailed for 15 years under a cruel terrorism law in Saudi Arabia. He has defended many peaceful activists, including jailed blogger Raif Badawi, and has challenged the widespread crackdown on human rights across the country.

Waleed is a prisoner of conscience, not a terrorist. Join the call for his immediate and unconditional release.
